Greetings Market Days Vendors!

We're gearing up for the EIGHTH year of GOOD HART MARKET DAYS! Market begins Saturday, June 25 and runs through color season (2-5:30pm)!! Calling area artists, artisans, farmers, and creators of all things unique and original.

The market, free to participate or attend, is held in Downtown Good Hart and all area farmers, artists, producers, and artisans are encouraged to participate.

Good Hart Market Days is a local market encouraging both resident and tourist attendance. Marketing efforts again include postcards, community calendars, the market days poster, and all Good Hart General Store digital marketing efforts (social media and email marketing). Again this year, we will be sending a weekly email to the store's database of 6000+ customers announcing the week's vendors. Participating vendors who confirm with us by Wednesday at 12pm will be included in the Friday email, as well as all social media promotions (excellent free advertising).

ABSOLUTELY NO FEE TO PARTICIPATE! All items required to set up your display area are your own responsibility including tables and chairs. Market Days takes place in the store's outdoor picnic area.

We are always welcoming local musicians and special events for the event. Should you know of anyone interested in performing/presenting at one of the Good Hart Market Days events, please have them contact us directly. We are happy to promote any participants via our own website, our social media channels, and of course our email marketing program.

We look forward to another wonderful year in 2016! The 2016 Participation Form is now available for download on the store's website at goodhartstore.com. Please complete the form and either mail, fax, or email back to us at your convenience. Forms are required for all vendors. Should you have any questions, I hope that you will contact me. I'm happy to answer any questions and help in any way that I can.

Thank you for your time and we're looking forward to our best year ever!!

Best Wishes,
